Wabi-Sabi

Imperfect Beauty

MARCH 26 - APRIL 25

Opening Reception with Artist Talk: Friday, March 27th, 5-7pm
Whitcomb's Arts: 1598 NYS Route 22, Whallonsburg, NY

Two local artists, Becky Johnson and Danae Fasano Dehne, embrace Wabi-Sabi, a Japanese aesthetic centered on finding beauty in imperfection and impermanence, in their work - creating reclaimed wood art and ceramics that highlight the beauty of imperfect, textural, and rustic materials. They shape their own creative vision by welcoming the irregularities that give each piece its character - whether it's the history etched into salvaged wood or the way Shino glazes naturally 'crawl', adding unpredictability to the firing.

Each artist crafts one-of-a-kind pieces.
